Thank you, Thank you, Thank you.
 Words hardly express the gratitude owed to a great number of men and women and youth who came to give of themselves in ministry during Vacation Bible School. These were willing to set aside their own plans for the week and focus completely upon ministry. No excuses given, never too tired to work -- they just did what God had planted in their hearts. God honored their commitment -- the seeds of God's love and hope were sown into the hearts of the children. To every person who helped and contributed in various ways to the success of the week -- thank you!
